

BIKE & TYPE MSLA COWORKING

Offering a different perspective on traditional offices, coworking spaces are becoming more and more popular for freelancers, remote workers, and small teams. Bike & Type is a Missoula coworking space that opened in downtown Missoula in June 2020. They offer everything from private suites to shared workspaces and are proud to encourage sustainable commuting as most prominently seen in their business name!

To support folks sustainable commuting they located near the Mountain Line transfer station and offer plentiful bike parking. They also offer flexible working hours and promote the importance of wellness to boost productivity to their team of workers.
